Semi Detached House surrounded by nature. Located at Elviria, just minutes from the Open Elviria Commercial Centre and the beaches, the house comprises four bedrooms and two bathrooms; several "patios" and garage. The property is built in two floors, with the advantage of having two independent entrances, thus the display is as follows: on the main floor we have the kitchen, dining room, an Arabian style living room, a complete bathroom and two bedrooms, plus an Andalusian patio. On the lower floor a really huge living room with fireplace, two more bedrooms and another complete bathroom; furthermore at this level we find a big terrace with another patio partially covered with a working jacuzzi in place and the garage. There's more room for cars within the community common areas. This property needs renovation works, but instead of an obstacle, one can seize the opportunity to transform the dwelling into a jewel as per the amount of built surface, the different spaces provided by the patios and the display of the dwelling which enables the possibility of turning it into two independent homes. These specific features and the mentioned location: a spot in a tranquil and surrounded by nature and yet less than five minutes from every imaginable amenity or service a family might need, entitles this property as a wise investment either to reform and use it as a first home, split the building into two different dwellings in order to live in one and rent the other half or allocate the whole building to rent out.
